Flagstaff Will Play Buffs Here Saturday Night

Coach Frank Kimbrough will herd his West Texas State College Buffaloes into the Border Conference football season Saturday night, Sept. 11. The Flagstaff, Arizona State College Lumberjacks will be the opponents. The game will start promptly at 8 p. m. under the new lights in Buffalo Stadium.

Coach Kimbrough and Odis Crowell, his line coach, predict the Buffaloes will be ready for the Lumberjacks, but will not be near the point of perfection the coaches would prefer.

"We are going to be a better ball club this year than last," said Kimbrough at the opening of the preseason training period on Sept. 1. He explained that last year's 19 freshmen ought to be greatly improved because of the year's experience.

"But," Kimbrough continued, "all of our opponents should be better, too." He said his squad of 38 candidates has a great team spirit. "One of the best I've ever seen," he declared, "and, although we lack speed and weight, we are going to try to make up for this handicap by being in top physical condition and having a high morale."

With only nine days of practice behind them, the Buffs will not have a wide variety of plays for the opening game. Too, they naturally are going to save something for the Texas Tech game in Lubbock on Sept. 18.

However, Panhandle fans will see the famed Double C combination of Sophomores Bill Cross and Eddie Conner, halfbacks, in plays with no punches pulled. Cross is the Canadian lad who was a sensation in 1947 as a freshman. Conner, The Kid from Floydada, also starred last year as a freshman. Kimbrough is building a tricky set of plays built around these two carriers, Cloyce Box, big, long-passing quarterback, and Lloyd Johnson, of Wheeler, at fullback.

In the line, Kimbrough will start Marvin Bowman, Lefors, and Charles Kitchens, Childress, at ends; Wayne Hill, Vernon, and Leon Chapman, Borger, at tackles; Pete Bromley, Clarendon, and Harold Dalton, Brownfield, at guards; and Buck Garrett, Borger, at center.

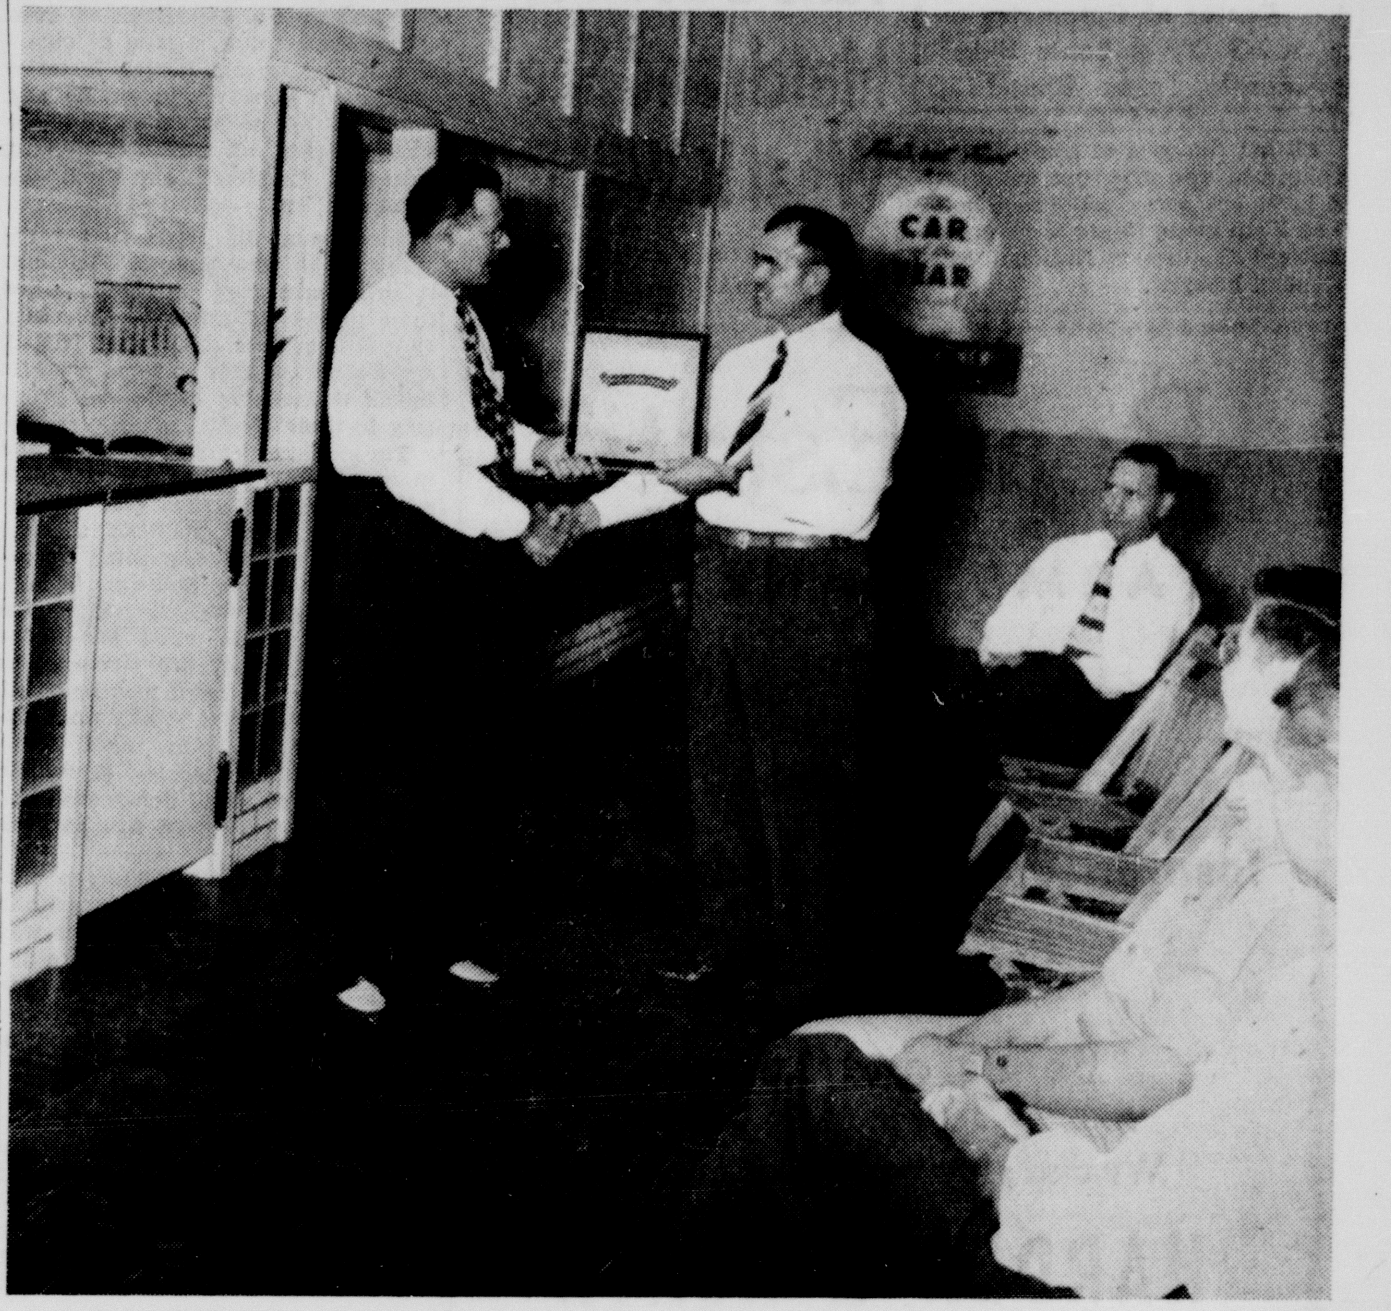
Paul Lindsey of the Lindsey Motor Company Is Given Award For Fine Record With Ford Motor Co.



A group of friends of Paul Lindsey witnessed the award of a merit plaque which was given him on account of meeting rigid specifications which have been set up by the Ford Motor Co. for dealers throughout the nation. Only a few dealers in this area have qualified for these requirements.

Paul Lindsey Is Honored by Ford Co. Wednesday

The first of the coveted Four-Letter awards which Ford Motor Company is bestowing on qualifying Ford dealers was given to the Lindsey Motor Company Wednesday afternoon.

Presentation of the handsome certificate—which signifies the highest badge of distinction a Ford dealer can earn—came during a recognition presentation in Canyon. The award was personally bestowed by assistant District Sales Manager, C. J. Robinson.

Paul Lindsey, who was among the first in the nation to get the award, which in recent months met the Ford company's high standards of finance, management, spirit and facilities. A number of local friends of Mr. Lindsey met with all local Ford employees for the presentation.

The four letters—FMSF—represent simultaneously the high Ford dealer performance level that must be earned, and the over-all new Ford company challenge, "Ford Must Stand First."

Dealer recipients, under the new Four-Letter Award program, must match their individual dealer operation with the company's four key franchise essentials: Sound finances, efficient management, competitive spirit and modern facilities.

Competitive spirit is measured by the dealer's recognition of community interest between the company and himself, and also by his cooperation in programs to create customer goodwill. His sales and service facilities must measure up to the most modern standards.

Efficient management embraces dealership objectives, activated personnel training program, advertising programs, control of expenses, and methods of handling used car and truck business.

The certificate presented carries the signatures of John R. Davis, Vice President and Director of Sales and Advertising; Walker A. Williams, General Sales Manager; Ira B. Groves, Southwestern Regional Sales Manager, and District Sales Manager C. I. Kenney.

Canyon School District Will Hold a Four-way Election Close Final Steps in the Program of Consolidation

Buffalo Football Squad Guests at the Rotary Lunch

Coaches Frank Kimbrough, Otis Crowell and members of the Buffalo football squad were entertained Tuesday at the luncheon of the Canyon Rotary Club.

Gus Miller, head of the Physical Education Department, was introduced by Clarence Thompson, and had charge of the program.

Mr. Miller urged that Canyon people buy their season tickets at once. There has been a good demand for season tickets from over the Panhandle, but the sales has not been pushed in Canyon.

Flagstaff will be played here Saturday night in the opening game of the season. Little is known of this team, but the boys will be ready to put on a fine exhibition.

Mr. Miller talked about the Tech game on Sept. 18 at Lubbock and predicated that the team would be ready for this game.

Line Coach Otis Crowell was introduced and highly praised the spirit of the boys. This will be a small squad in numbers, and some of the boys may have to play 60 minutes because of the lack of reserves.

Frank Kimbrough, head coach, believed that the boys of his squad were ready to give 100% of their ability. "When we do our best, the score is of minor importance," said Kimbrough. "We have a better team than last year, but anticipate that the opponents we play will likewise be better this season."

Co-Captains Lloyd Johnson of Wheeler and Buck Garrett of Borger were selected by the squad and were highly praised for their past playing.

Mr. Kimbrough stated that five home games would be played. The schedule is the toughest ever attempted by the Buffaloes, but the team will be ready through hard work. "We hope that you will come out and see the boys play; you will like the brand of football they put out," concluded the coach.

Visitors were: John E. Hill, Arch Hunsley, E. Kancher, Forrest Barnes, J. E. Bowman, Lon Watson, Al Lacy, Cleo McGinnis, all of Amarillo; Joe E. Boyd of Canadian; H. W. Shirley of Childress; J. E. Scott and D. B. Robb, both of Houston.

SPEAKS AT SPEARMAN

Mrs. Glenn Truax, District Chairman of Fine Arts in Women's Federated Clubs, will be the guest speaker at Spearman today at an informal tea of the Twentieth Century Club as the opening meeting for the year's work.

Mrs. Otto White left Wednesday morning to visit with relatives in Los Angeles and San Francisco, Calif. She will visit in the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Growder and family, in Los Angeles. Mrs. Growder is the former Miss Helen White.

Charles Stratton of Phillips spent the week end visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Stratton.

A four-fold election will be held in the Canyon Independent School District on Sept. 25 which will finish up the series of elections and complete all steps in the recent consolidation of 16 school districts.

The new district has 570 sections of land, compared with 92 sections before steps were taken to consolidate the districts.

All voters of the district will vote on the proposal to assume all outstanding bonds of districts which have come into the new district. This is the first proposition.

The second proposition will be to cancell the $75,000 bond issue which was approved by the Canyon Independent School District a few months ago. These bonds have not been issued.

The third proposal is to set a uniform tax rate in all of the district. This is necessary in view of the fact that some of the districts which went into the consolidation did not have the same rate as the original Canyon district.

The fourth proposal is to issue bonds over the new district in the amount of $100,000. It was found that an additional amount of money would be needed to install a new heating plant for additional space made by the new buildings. Other equipment will be needed because of the consolidation. The new bond issue will cover all property in the 570 sections of the consolidation.

An official notice of the election is published this week in order that all phases may be ascertained by the voters.

There will be one polling place, at the City Hall in Canyon.

Lyndon Johnson Jumps Into Lead For U.S. Senator

Lyndon Johnson may be the next United States Senator from Texas!

Johnson took a slight lead from Coke Stevenson this week and his majority has held to 187 for the past several days.

This is the closest race ever staged in Texas. Nearly a million votes have been counted in the race by the Texas Election Bureau.

Practically all of the counties have verified their official votes, and it is now up to the State Democratic Executive Committee to make the final canvass of the votes on next Monday. Unless additional errors are found in the reports from the counties, Johnson will win by this scant margin.

Take a Look at Match and See What It Will Do

Take a look at a match. It's a cheap, necessary, and innocent looking little article. Yet matches have coused the destruction of hundreds of millions of dollars worth of property and tens of thousands of lives.

The same thing is true of cigarettes. Great forests, homes, factories—all have gone up in smoke and flame because people didn't go to the small trouble of putting smoking materials completely out when discarding them.

How about the cords that carry the juice to your lamps? Their cost is small and they can be installed in a matter of minutes. Yet, easy as it is to replace them when frayed, short-curcuits also have a gigantic toll of destruction to life and property to their credit.

These three examples show the main causes of fire—and the ease with which such fires can be prevented. The vast majority of fires are the result of one thing only—the human factor. Someone is lazy. Someone is careless. Someone puts off till tomorrow what should be done today. Then fire strikes. The loss may be great or it may be small. In either case, it is totally unnecessary. Keep that in mind when smoking, when checking household equipment, or when doing anything that has a bearing on fire hazards.

If the U.S. told the Russian people how it felt about them, Stalin could never mobilize them for war. U. S. policy has failed to draw a distinction between the Russian government and the Russian people. — Alexander Kerensky, former prime minister of Russia.

If, throughout the world, there could be discussion groups, there would be no more wars. A guy learns to get the other fellow's viewpoint, so there's automatically a cooling-off point.—Joseph C. Freadlin, Winchester, Va.

What Is Right What Is Wrong In Our Lives

The Saturday Evening Post recently ran a lead editorial with the straightforward title "Having More By Making Less is Still Bunk!" In it, it said: "It has become a commonplace with post-Roosevelt politicians that every American has a 'right' to a good house, or a "right" to inexpensive medical care, or a 'right' to a standard of living represented by a salary of $5000 a year, or a 'right' to 'the good things of life at prices he can afford to pay' . . . .

"People three hundred years ago would be mystified by a generation which expects to enforce the 'right' to a high standard of living by closing down the nation's coal mines, railroads, packing houses and automobile plants. Capt. John Smith's bustling workers and the settlers in equally 'reactionary' New England would not have understood how people could have more things by producing fewer."

The philosophy of less and less work for more and more money is the most iniquitous thing that can happen to a country. Every real gain made in living standards is the result of greater efficiency and increased production. Otherwise all the wage increases must simply be offset by higher prices—which is just another way of saying that inflation becomes inevitable.

Even worse, the philosophy of producing less and earning more has led to a dependence on the government which prior generations would have regarded as disgraceful. Millions of people seem to have come to the conclusion that the principal function of government is to provide cradle to the grave security—that it's job is to stand between the individual and every conceivable economic contingency. That is the attitude that makes dictatorship possible. It was the selling point on which Hitler, Mussolini and all the rest of the modern tyrants came to power. And it is now approaching another full flowering in England, where the state is determined to control everything—and the individual is turning into a cipher.

In this country, the labor unions have been major offenders in developing the idea that a higher standard of living for the masses of people can be accomplished without doing a full day's work for a full day's pay. In some fields that illusion has reached scandalous proportions. And that, in the long run, is the sort of thing that produces depressions.

The men who built this country, and developed the most nearly perfect system of government ever conceived, knew that the only way to perpetuate freedom was through vigilant and independent people. They didn't run to the government for help every time something went wrong. And they didn't work on the theory that the less an individual produced the more he should have. It's time we again looked the facts of life in the face, and learn that the only real "rights" are those we earn.

FACT FABLE

Once upon a time a young married couple were expecting their first child. It was the old story—she wanted a girl and he wanted a son. At first they merely teased each other about this, but it soon turned into an earnest argument, and finally into a serious quarrel. And time marched on.

Finally B Day arrived, and the news bulletin from the hospital announced twins—one girl and one boy!

Moral: Everyone is entitled to his own opinion.

Texan Claims He Is Jesse James; Pal Greets Him

OAKLAND, CALIF.—Al Jennings, 85, the oldtime Oklahoma train robber, was brought face to face with a Texan who says he's Jesse James—and exclaimed, "It's him!"

Jennings took one long look at J. Frank Dalton, or James. His voice choked and his eyes filled with tears.

"It's him," said Jennings. "That's the face. My word of honor.

"Boys, there ain't a bit of doubt on earth. This here is Jesse James!"

San Leandro civic officials brought Dalton here by plane to feature him in their rodeo. They invited Jennings, too. Jennings who took to the lecture circuit after his imprisonment a generation ago, makes his home in Southern California.

Dalton's story resurrecting the old outlaw—supposedly long a-moldering in a Missouri grave—first was made public when Dalton announced that he was the famous desperado.

Secret Question

Jennings said before the meeting he could prove whether the old man was Jesse James by a single question dealing with a "shootin' match" of long ago on a ranch in West Texas.

The only person who knew about that match, he said, were himself, one other man—and Jesse James.

As the two met, the eyes of both filled with tears.

"Do you know me, Jesse?" asked Jennings.

The other nodded his head vigorously. His voice broke as he said:

"You bet. You won a shootin' match on the old C Dot E ranch."

Jennings grabbed him by the hand.

Killed By Gang Member

History says Jesse was killed at St. Joseph, Mo., in April, 1882, by Bob Ford, a member of his gang.

Dalton says that's all nonsense, that the man Ford killed was "a Pinkerton feller named Charlie Bigelow," After the shooting, he decided to disappear.

Jennings said he was frankly skeptical about the old man "until I asked old Jesse some questions nobody but him and me could've knowed."

The two had a rambunctious reunion, as their conversation paraded the ghosts of long gone bandits of the Southwest.

"We're a-goin' right over the same old trails," said Al. "Boys, there ain't no doubt about this. This is old Jesse sure."

Expedition Uncovers Relics Of Early Man in California

LITTLE LAKE, CALIF.—Campsite remains of California's Dawn Man have been discovered two miles north of Little lake in Inyo county. The human bones and arrowheads found at this "closest approach to a city" may date as far back as 15,000 years.

This uncovering of prime historical importance has excited archeologist of an expedition from the Southwest museum. Their director, Curator Mark R. Harrington, says that for the first time "Pinto Culture" relics have been found in a positive, original location, undisturbed by the elements for more than 3,000 years.

The camp is on the lava-walled banks of a long vanished river that once ran south from glacier-fed Owens lake. A waterfall was then nearby, and a commodious lava cave was used for shelter, centuries before later-age Piute Indians came along and etched their own drawings on the dark cavern walls.

"They must have had a good life," Harrington said, "for when the glacier began melting, during either of the pluvial eras, this was lush, green, wooded country."

Victims of Texas City Blast Sue U. S. for Ninety Million

HOUSTON, TEX. — Uncle Sam was blamed in the Texas City explosion to the tune of more than 90 million dollars in lawsuits.

Eight suits totaling $55,208,446 including a 50 million dollar claim by the Monsanto Chemical company, were received here by the federal district clerk for transfer to Galveston, where trial of the cases is scheduled.

Monsanto's suit alleged the government "had knowledge of the potential hazards" of the ammonium nitrate, but that it was packed and shipped from government plants while "innocently labeled fertilizer."

The claims seek damages for deaths, personal injuries, property damage, reimbursement for insurance payments, recovery of profits lost by plant destruction and damage and loss of services of technically trained personnel killed in the disaster.

Texas City officials listed 512 persons killed or missing in the disaster. An estimated 3,000 were injured.

Similar suits already on file at Galveston exceed 35 million dollars while an additional $1,068,450 is involved in suits filed at Fort Worth Oklahoma City and St. Louis.

Attorneys predicted the final figure may exceed the 100 million dollar mark.

Self-Service Gas Stations Cut Costs

LOS ANGELES. — New Self-service gasoline stations are springing up throughout Southern California Instead of men attendants, cute girl cashiers, some on roller skates and dressed in snappy and abbreviated costumes, take your money after you have filled your own tank.

In addition to the girls there is another attractive feature for motorists:

The price for gasoline is as much as five cents a gallon under usual prices. Some of the self-service stations advertise a saving of seven cents a quart on oil.

Borrowed from the super-market system, the new idea is spreading. Estimates indicate there are more than 35 self-service stations, and the number is growing daily.

Operators claim their products are marketed at one-third the cost to ordinary stations. Harry Rothchild, president of Rothchild Oil company, one of several independents going in strong for the idea, says his cost is 1½ cents a gallon to the normal 4½ cents, refinery to consumer.

Self-service requires a larger area as each station uses several times the normal number of gasoline pumps, to accommodate more cars. Some stations have 20 or more pumps.

Attendants are needed only to unlock the pumps and take the customer's money after he has helped himself.

Some stations have put girl attendants on roller skates. It enables them to make quick change and handle more pumps.

Determined Shopper Caches A Pair of Bargain Pajamas

MEMPHIS, TENN.—The pajama sale brought out the bargain hunters. The clerk finally wrapped the last pair on the counter and the sale was over.

Three hours later, a woman shopper handed the clerk the money for a pair of blue pajamas that had been on sale. She had left the money home when she first arrived at the store.

She calmly explained that she had hidden the pajamas under garments on another counter and returned home for the cash.

Dairy Farmers Cash in on Test-Tube Breeding of Cows

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—A decade of test-tube breeding of milk cows has succeeded far beyond the hopes of the 100 pioneers.

It was just 10 years ago that New Jersey Co-operative Artificial Breeding Association Unit No. 1—first of its kind in the nation—got underway on a farm in Somerset county

Now, a million dollars in extra income a year is being grossed by dairy farmers taking part in the project.

Enos J. Perry of the New Jersey State College of Agriculture here launched the program among 100 farmers.

He had visited Denmark where he witnessed co-operative artificial breeding.

Perry was surprised at the speed with which dairymen accepted the revolutionary idea that put the New Jersey bull in the shadow of a test tube.

The original 100 Jersey farmers have been joined by thousands more in 42 states. There were 1,500 cows enrolled in the pioneer project. Now there are 1,800,000 in the nation giving better returns to their owners because of "test tube" breeding.

Flying Police Trooper Flags Errant Pilot to "Pull Over"

PONTIAC, MICH.—Concealed by the sun's brilliance, like a traffic policeman behind a billboard, Henry A. DeLooff, state police trooper, flagged down and ticketed an errant flier.

The arrested man, Pfc. Richard J. Koester, 20, on leave from the marines in Washington, paid a $30 fine to Justice Burt I. Lockwood The charge was reckless flying.

DeLooff said he watched Koester take off "like a cowboy" from the Pontiac airport. The policeman took over another plane and followed Koester 18 miles, with the rays of the sun as a shield.

He said Koester made two low dives over populated areas. After the second one DeLooff pulled up beside Koester and gave him the same signal traffic policemen use to flag motorists to a curb.

"You should have seen his face when I flew alongside him," the trooper commented.

Koester was arrested after he landed.

Short-Circuited Juke Box Sounds Its Own Fire Alarm

PHILADELPHIA. — James Fitzgerald shook his head, blinked the sleep from his eyes. He was right The strains of "Four Leaf Clover" filled his bedroom—at 2:30 a.m

The music was coming from the taproom below his second-story apartment. But the taproom was closed.

He stumbled down the stairs and found smoke pouring from the taproom.

It took firemen an hour to put out the blaze in the short-circuited taproom juke box. The short circuit had set the machine in operation

TRAGEDY AND DISASTER strike often, on the daytime radio serial.

It's easy to see why. The radio audience won't maintain interest in the day-to-day affairs of people. So the radio serial compresses the emergencies of life into fifteen-minute episodes.

These emergencies don't occur as rapidly in your life.

But they do occur. They've happened in the past, and you can expect them in the future.

Luckily, there's a way to meet emergencies when they come. There's a way to soften the blows of Bad Luck, and Accident, and Loss. It's by investment—regular investment—in United States Savings Bonds.

All you have to do is sign your name—and you start accumulating a reserve fund to protect your future.

You can sign your name to either of two fine plans offered by Uncle Sam: (1) The Payroll Savings Plan at your firm. (2) Or, if not on a payroll, the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank.

Bonds pay back four dollars for every three, and in just ten years. When you "tune in" then, you'll find security—for yourself, for your family.

Nuptial Vows Exchanged in Ranch Ceremony

Miss Jimmie Cile Wise, daughter of Mrs. J. M. Wise of Canyon, became the bride of Mr. Odell Wilkes, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Wilkes of Happy, Saturday afternoon, Sept. 4, at 4:30 o'clock, in the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stroup on their ranch, southwest of Quitaque.

The spacious rooms of the attractive ranch home were decorated with baskets of white chrysanthemums and greenery and white candles in candelabra.

Preceding the ceremony the candles were lighted by Miss Lenora Wilkes, sister of the bridegroom, as Mrs. Bill Ebbs of Plainview played "Indian Love Call." Mrs. Ebbs also accompanied Mrs. Stroup who sang "I Love You Truly," and the traditional wedding march.

The bride descended the stairway and entered the living room with her brother-in-law Jim Stroup, who gave her in marriage. She was a pretty picture in a lovely ankle-length white lace dress over satin fashioned with molded bodice, hip length peplum, and capelet sleeves. The high neckline was complemented with a ruby lavalier which was something old in the bridal tradition. Something borrowed was her mother's engagement ring, and something blue was a linen handkerchief. The elbow length veil of illusion was fastened with a wreath of white stephanotis. White orchids, showered with satin streamers topped the White Bible which she carried.

She was attended by Mrs. James Cooper of Canyon as matron of honor. Mrs. Cooper wore a pink sheer with a corsage of white carnations.

Mr. Wilkes was attended by his brother, Mr. Carl Wilkes, as best man.

The basket of mums and lighted candles in candelabra, banked before the mantel in the living room made a lovely back ground for the exchange of vows, directed by Rev. A. L. Shaw, pastor of the Baptist church of Happy.

Guests for the wedding ceremony and the reception which followed were close relatives and friends of the family. The tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom centered the lace covered table, where pink roses and lighted candles in crystal holders completed the decorations. Mrs. Clarence Wise presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Clyde Mercer fo Silverton served the cake after the first slice was cut by the bride and bridegroom. Mrs. Ben Parnell, sister of the bride, presided at the bride's book.

Mrs. Wilkes is a graduate of the Quitaque schools, and is a student of West Texas State where she is completing her junior year.

Mr. Wilkes is a graduate of the Happy schools and is attending West Texas State, where he is majoring in Speech. He served 21 months in the army during the war.

The couple are planning to continue their college work and will be at home at 2200 Fourth, Canyon.

Miss Arline Truax is spending the visiting in the home of her sister, Mrs. Robert Holland, in Perryton.

Wipe Out All Profits and Prices Are High

At more or less frequent intervals, the newspapers still carry accounts of consumer "strikes" against retail stores. The participants pledge themselves to cut their buying to the minimum until the storekeepers reduce prices by 10 to 20 per cent or some other arbitrary figure.

This kind of consumer feeling may be understandable. But to blame the retailer for today's steep prices makes no sense at all. If the storekeepers — particularly those dealing in staple necessities—made no profit whatever, the average family's buying power would be increased very little.

The proof of that is found in statistical breakdowns of what happens to the money spent in typical stores. Practically all of it goes to buy supplies, to pay wages and taxes, for rent and maintenance, and for other unavoidable expenses. All that is left as profit, in most cases, is two to five cents out of each dollar rung up in the cash register.

There is one main reason why this should be so—competition. In this country all kinds of stores compete with each other. Chains and independents are after your business. They try to outdo each other by offering better qualities, more extensive stocks, improved service—and more reasonable prices. Under that kind of a set-up, no one is going to be able to profiteer for long.

Retailers will be among the first to cheer if prices ever come down. And, in the meantime, they'll sell you what you want at the lowest cost possible.

Scouts Calling For Funds From Canyon, Happy

Calling all residents of Canyon and Happy to participate in the annual "Round-Up" of the Boy Scouts of America, C. R. Burrow, District Chairman declared this week that "we in Canyon and Happy must measure up to the records being set up through the rest of the country."

A nation-wide event, the Round-Up is designed to "enable us to contribute to a better America by going forward in our service to boyhood, to grow as we have had the habit of doing, through the years," declared Mr. Burrow.

He pointed out that membership nationally reached an all-time high of 2,141,984 Scouts and leaders last year, and that it is hoped this mark will be surpassed during the 1948 Round-Up, which continues to the end of the year.

Since 1910, when Scouting was first established in the United States, 14,710,853 persons have been members of the Boy Scouts of America, he stated. Men from all walks of life, he continued, have devoted themselves to developing Scouting into a movement, second to none, in the country as a character building and citizenship training organization for young men.

Some of these men, he explained, have dealt with administration and camp properties and finances; some establishing units and serving institutions that use the Scout program; some have been training leaders, conducting and promoting rallies, civic service, advancement, health and safety.

"These are our Council and District Scouters," said Mr. Burrow. "A vast number of other volunteers work in personal contact with the boys—training them and inspiring them in Scoutcraft. To think of this fine service, to watch these men, add up their achievements is a thrilling story and a real inspiration."

However, Mr. Burrow mentioned that there is a great need for more volunteer leaders and sponsoring institutions to enable more boys and young men of Canyon and Happy to have the fun and adventure of Scouting. He added that the present Round-Up is designed to spot-light these needs, so that every boy within range, who wants to be a Scout, may be able to realize this ambition.

French Fans Shower Wrestlers With Beer

PARIS, FRANCE. — Murder the bum! Changez l'arbitre, that referee is blind! Voici, Pierre, pour another beer on that low type. Bravo, a direct hit!

Such quaint expressions are an integral part of the wrestling matches from Singapore to Scott's Bluff, Nebr., but at the Salle Wagram, a few blocks from the Arch of Triumph in Paris, it hits a new and lusty low.

The French throw inhibitons to the winds when it comes to indicating their displeasure with contenders in the manly art of wiping the floor with the other guy.

At the Salle Wagram audience reaction is always extreme but varies along fairly strict economic lines.

The shifty eyed open-collar standees in the single tier balcony and their equally ardent lady guests accompany their vocal derision by flipping lighted cigarette butts into the ring.

Occasionally a ringside customer is struck by mistake and the house protests.

Another favorite of the balcony crowd, restricted to those fortunate enough to be standing over the aisle, is to pour stale beer on departing combatants.

Patrons in the outer fringe of seats —or those who may be termed, roughly, the middle class spectators —are out of cigarette flipping range. However they vary the murderous exhortations by tipping, poking, kicking and generally annoying departing gladiators.

At the ringside, the well dressed dilletantes who plunked down $2.50 each for the occasional privilege of catching 240 pounds of braised beef in their laps, manifest their displeasure on these occasions by a few well placed kicks.

Detectives Open Battered Safe Which Baffled Robbers

DENVER.—Looking at the litter surrounding the Morton Peabody incorporated's safe early one morning, detectives Fred Zarnow and John Toll figured would-be crackers had worked unsuccessfully for about six hours.

The 750-pound safe had been removed from the shop and battered, beaten, cut, hacked and burned, but it remained closed. To add insult to injury, the yeggs had used the shop's own tools for the attempted job.

Finishing the safe-cracking job, Zarnow and Toll opened the safe, in the presence of the owner, in just 90 seconds.

Phantoms, Banshees "Haunt" New Aircraft Vocabulary

PHILADELPHIA.—The boy on the street had better start learning a brand new vocabulary if he wants to keep abreast of today's aviation parade.

That's because the Flying Fortresses, Mustangs, Thunderbolts and other planes that seemed so advanced only a couple of years ago are fast losing their strategic value, says R. R. Zisette, general sales manager of SKF Industries, in reporting on the increased use of antifriction bearings in new types of aircraft. The Philadelphia firm has substantially boosted production of bearings for aircraft gas turbines and other plane engines.

"Something like 14 new types of planes and a half-dozen experimental Pilotless craft have been revealed by the air force while numerous others are still on drafting boards," he says.

The up-to-date aviation vocabulary must now include, Zisette said, such new names as Banshee, Stratojet, Phantom, Shooting Star, Panther, Pirate, Thunderjet and others known only by anonymous symbols such as the XS-1 which reputedly has crossed the mystic barrier of supersonic speed.

Anti-friction bearings for the new aircraft exemplify the spectacular transition, Zisette said, pointing out that as many as a hundred bearings of a dozen different types go into a single engine, simplifying mechanical design and lubrication.

Searchers Find Lost Child in Rattlesnake-Infested Country

GRAHAM, TEX. — Sandy-haired Bobby Brown, 2-year-old son of a North Texas farm couple, was found scratched and bruised after being lost 24 hours in rattlesnake-infested ranch country.

Unclothed except for a T-shirt, the towheaded youngster was rescued by D. D. St. John, one of 300 searchers.

"Where are you going?" St. John asked.

"Looking for my dog Shorty," replied the barefoot child.

The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Brown, said Shorty, a shaggy black and white dog, returned to their farm house "barking and howling."

"I guess he was trying to tell us where Bobby was," said Brown.

Bobby, youngest of eight children, was missed before noon.

Searchers on foot said they killed 12 rattlesnakes in brushland and mesquite flats while searching for the boy.

Six private planes took part in the search.

He had wandered eight miles from home.

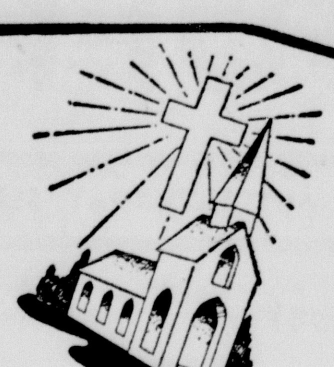
Matthew 11:28



YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good.

REST for the toilers; What a boon that is! Some of us scarcely expect any real rest till we get to heaven. But it is the charm of Jesus that he brought heaven to earth, that He gave to men in toil the assurance and the fellowship that lifted the uncommon and the ordinary into the precious. In His company men found the glory of great living; they toiled as did their fellows, but they found renewed strength for the task. The difference was not with the road but with the man and with the company. Your task may be heavy and your toil all too trying, but if you know where you are coming out, that makes a difference. You may wish the load was not quite so heavy, but if love waits at the turn of the row, that makes a difference. You may be weary with the day-in and day-out responsibility, but if good company is added, that makes a difference.

JESUS CHRIST has brought all these blessings to us who toil. Our work is glorified as it is seen from His point of view; we are workers together with God. What we are doing has divine and eternal significance if it is helping the Architect of the universe to build after His heart's desire. To know that my work really counts is to find a new joy in the task. The men who toiled with the Carpenter of Nazareth were well assured that their labor "was not in vain in the Lord." They were humble workmen, as humble as any one of us. The world counts them among its choicest toilers of all the ages; their lives became significant as their work became an aid to the Lord of Life.

INSTEAD of a Taskmaster God we have found ourselves at a task to which we have been called by our Father God. His patience and sympathy and understanding love have made every highway of the world a King's Highway, where we are at home as the sons of the Highest. To know that "God is love," to find love in our hearts instead of fear, to expect a hearty "Well done" instead of judgment and criticism at the end of the day, this is to change the weariness of the task to a sense of high privilege.

"FOLLOW me" has been the call which has taken us from the lonely task to become members of a glorious company. The Christian has had a song put in his heart and praise upon his lips, as he joins the goodly company of the redeemed. For he becomes a member of a society of redeemers, and that is toil that keeps a man singing.

NOT rest from toil then is our high lot, for life is not worth the candle if there is no good work to be done; but rest of soul, joy in the heart, refreshment of spirit, becoming true yokefellows with the divine Friend and Lord.

Communists give signs of trying to stir up the same kind of trouble in African colonies that they have been engineering in Asia. Propaganda broadcasts denounce British treatment of African natives and encourage nationalist movements in the colonies. The party line is to regard colonies as the "rear of the capitalist camp."

President Truman has completely squelched advisers who were pressuring him to recall Congress after Labor Day. Instead, Truman will follow through with his campaign plans, which call for anti-Congress speeches in the home towns of Congressional leaders like Minnesota's Harold Knutson, Indiana's Charles Halleck and New York's John Taber.

Senate Foreign Relations Chairman Arthur Vandenberg will soon fire the Republicans' first foreign broadside. Vandenberg will pull no punches in his criticism of Truman, but will say nothing to make nations abroad think U.S. over-all policy is wavering.

Plainview Evening Herald Pays Tribute to J. A. Hill

The following editorial in the Plainview Evening Herald of August 29 is a just tribute to Dr. J. A. Hill:

A signal tribute is paid Dr. J. A. Hill, retiring president of West Texas State at Canyon, in the 44-page edition of the Canyon News. Clyde Warwick of the News gathered expressions of appreciation from those who have been most closely associated with Dr. Hill. For 30 years Dr. Hill has been president of the school and he had served in its history department for eight years priorly.

Dr. Hill is a great educator and a fine administrator. He leaves the school at Canyon on a solid basis. The appreciative thanks of a grateful Northwest Texas are expressed in the Canyon paper. There's a deeper thankful spirit among the former students and the host of parents whose children have attended West Texas. It will never be so audibly expressed.

There's a debt of gratitude that will never be realized as a debt. The debtors, many of whom will be unaware of their debt, are the boys and girls who have attended schools administered or taught by those who graduated or were trained at West Texas when it was normal or subsequently. Hundreds of teachers in the common school districts and in other schools of Northwest Texas in its early development stages came from the Canyon school. Without it there would have been a dearth of teachers trained from among our own folk.

Not alone to the top flight educators and professional people who trained initially at Canyon is this area indebted. It is indebted most to the West Texas boys and girls, men and women, who trained there and went out in the scattered communities of West Texas to live in the rural homes and to instruct the boys and girls in the little school houses, which were among the finest community centers that ever existed in America. They are history now, along with the teaching methods of that day when a teacher taught children from the beginners up to the lanky, overgrown boy, who gave her own girlish heart a flutter when it came time for lessons of the few advanced pupils.

The figurative "little red school house" has changed into a big yellow bus. Wise is the community which retains and uses the old school buildings as community centers.

Dr. Hill's leadership went beyond the school campus. He was a genuine leader of men and much of the cultural and no little bit of the economic development of the High Plains of Texas is attributable to Dr. Hill's efforts and influence.

He approaches retirement with serenity and poise and without rancor. Economic insecurity makes many people in public and private position of responsibility cling on long after they should retire. What should become a period of mellow years, a crowning era becomes rancorous and its rancidity pervades the retirement niche and beyond. He retires sweetly.

If all of the money wasted this year on politics could have been put to legitimate uses, what a change there might have been in Texas. We say "wasted" advisedly. The direct primary was substituted for the convention system in order to give every man a chance to run for office. But the high cost of elections has become so high that few men and women of small means can run for office; and it is impossible to run for state office unless some group is willing to put up $25,000 to $50,000. That is a serious indictment of our election laws, and calls for remedy at the hands of the legislature.

We hope that the legislature will do something about two situations in Texas. First, it makes us pretty sore to hear reports from Harris county being broadcast hourly when it is clearly against the law to carry on such a practice. Second, we hope that something can be done to break up the dictatorship that has existed in the Valley for 25 or more years. The Mexicans vote as the white political bosses say, just as they have year after year. It is not a free vote, or the vote of free people.

The big political battle is on. Truman shot five blasts at GOP Monday in the union capitol of the nation, Detroit. Truman is promising everything to labor in order to get the labor vote. GOP orators will follow in Truman's tracks, but they will not be able to out-promise Truman. The Democrats have always been the strongest promisers.

It won't be long until you have a chance to get a free picture made of your chest. Even if you suspect that there may be something wrong, better be safe and take advantage of this opportunity. The State Health Department wants you to avail yourself of the service, regardless of how you feel about your case.

A. J. Stricklin Recalls Days Before Road Paving

A. J. (Andy) Stricklin, dean of the Panhandle Publishers, recalled early days in the Panhandle in his Brownfield Herald as follows:

The Canyon News came out last week with a 44-page edition (wonder where they got the paper?) devoted to honoring President J. A. Hill of WTSC, head of that fine institution for the past 30 years.

Mr. Hill, brother of Editor E. I. Hill of Tahoka, will retire Sept. 1. The edition was fine and historical as well, and we enjoyed it immensely.

But it put us to reminescing back to June 1924, when the Texas Press Association held a meeting in Amarillo. About the second day, the association members were carried by cars to Palo Duro canyon, where we ate one of Mr. Snider's famous barbecue dinners (noon variety) and met for sessions in a cave we believe was called the Devil's kitchen.

Late in the afternoon, the Texas editors were carried to the campus of the college, where President Hill, his fine faculty, one Terryite, Lee Johnson, showed us what real west Texas hospitality was. The Home Ec girls had prepared a stunning and appetizing plate lunch which was served on the grassy lawn.

After the repast, we heard a fine song and skit program in the auditorium. In the edition of the Canyon News, the Amarillo News-Globe had an ad that caught us, on a sort of "remember when" setup.

They asked could you remember when a guy boasted that he pulled the canyon hill (then unpaved) without going into low gear, or boiling the water in the radiator?

When we left the auditorium, a storm was coming up and fast. It struck us after we got out of the canyon, however, and such thunder, lightning, wind and rain you never saw. Well you know how black and slick that dirt is when wet? Plenty.

We were in what was then known as a "touring" car, for which the driver didn't happen to bring the side curtains. The driver just took what come and asked the writer to get on the back seat with a couple of editors from south Texas.

Those days the roads were graded to a sharp point in the middle and we slipped from one side of the road to the other at about five or six miles per hour. We hit the pavement in the edge of Amarillo slightly after 2 a. m. Left Canyon at 11 p. m., with 17 miles to go.

Yes, we remember when.

We would not go across the street to see or hear Henry Wallace. But those who wish to see and hear him have a right to do so. Frankly those fellows who threw vegetables and eggs at Henry last week in the South did the candidate more good than anything else could possibly have been done. Their actions made it appear to a lot of persons in the North that the Negroes of the South are being abused; that we demand race segregation; and that the Negro is being deprived of his political rights. Such a reputation is not good for the South. While all of us admit that it is practiced, never-the-less the same thing is practiced in many sections of the North, but the fact is hid under a bushel; they are not parading the facts. But here in the South we simply brought the whole thing to light by the treatment of Wallace. Henry has a right to his views, the same as we have, as screwy as we may think his views are.

The people of Louisiana have no right to throw brickbats at Texas for the political situation which has existed here since the Fergusons took over. Conditions are now definitely improved. Since the death of Huey Long it looked for a while like our neighbors to the east may have improved—politically. But not for long (or Long either). Earl Long is Governor, and is pouring on the taxes to make a reputation for himself as a spender of public funds. Now Huey's son has been elected U. S. Senator, and Washington expects that we shall see a revival of the spectacular days of "Every Man a King." Kingfish, the 2nd, will hardly be in a class with the original.

We wish now that we had planned to go to the Democratic State Convention in Fort Worth next week. We are told that all kinds of manipulations will be tried by the Johnson forces to sink Coke Stevenson deeper. In fact this fight has become so hot that the delegates may forget all about their peeve at Governor Jester.

'It's funny how those Russians do not want to go back to the land of plenty; the land of the free; the land of the (dictators and oppression). But who blames them?

Frankly we shall be happy when this election mess is cleaned up and we know who is our U. S. Senator from Texas. Will either Lyndon or Coke be satisfied? Hardly.

BOYCE HOUSE
"Gives You Texas"

When I was on the staff of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, there was a dog show and I was assigned to write it up. For three days, I was out there in the big, barn-like exhibit hall where there were 200 dogs and they barked and barked all day long.

After three days of that, I was back in the newspaper office writing the closing account of the show when I heard, or thought I heard, a bark. I assumed it was imagination and kept on writing. In a moment, I heard another bark.

Had listening to all that barking for those three days so worked on my nerves that I was "hearing things?" I looked guardedly around the office to see if anyone else had noticed such a sound but all were busy and I was just lowering my head to the typewriter when my glance caught the eye of Mark Burrowes, the "suburban edition" editor—and he tried to keep from grinning but couldn't.

He had been doing the barking.

I grinned, too. It's quite a relief to know that your imagination is not playing tricks on you.

A boy showed such marked indifference to his duties that his employer said, "I regret to do so but I must discharge you." The youth pleaded, "Mr. Brown, please don't do that. This is my first job and if I am fired from my first job, it will handicap me all through life." So at last the employer said, "All right; go back to work." The boy said, "You mean I'm not fired?" "That's right" was the reply. "Then," said the youth, "I resign."

Top Ropers Will Compete on Sept. 26 at Levelland

The country's top ropers will be in Levelland on Sunday, September 26, to compete in the third annual steer roping and branding event sponsored by the Levelland Rodeo Association.

"All trails lead to Levelland for the occasion. The grounds are in first-class condition and it is expected that the stands of the largest arena in West Texas will be filled to capacity for this crowd-thrilling event," is stated.

American relations with Russia will toughen. Failure of the Danube Conference may result in these stern measures: Russian diplomatic officers in the U.S. will be told to abide by international law or get out; Amtorg, Soviet trading agency in New York, will be clamped on; U.S. delegates to U.N. will be instructed to drop all appeasement moves toward Russian or satellite nations' delegates.

Texas Will Try To Stop Needless Toll Child Lives

A state-wide effort to reduce Texas' child accident toll of about 900 lives yearly through participation in the national child safety campaign in September was set forth by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, as an immediate public health objective calling for concerted cooperation by all public health and medical authorities and interested civic organizations within the state.

"The needless loss of a single life, or the crippling of even one child, is an exorbitant price to pay for any neglect of this problem," said Dr. Cox.

The importance of such a campaign is evidenced by the fact that accidents are now the leading cause of death among children more than one year old. Among children 5 to 9 years old, the death rate from accidents was 25.7 per 100,000, as compared with a rate of 4.6 for rheumatic fever and organic heart disease, the next cause; and among children from 9 to 14, the accident death rate was 20.8 and that for rheumatic fever and organic disease 7.2.

The outstanding improvement in the death rates from all non-accident causes during recent years is the result of the advance in medical science and concentrated efforts in the field of child health. The premise of the child safety campaign is that efforts now must be intensified to bring about a somewhat comparable reduction in the number of child accidents.

Houston Pastor Speaker on Baptist Hour

Dr. W. Boyd Hunt, Pastor First Baptist Church, Houston, is the opening speaker for the first three weeks of the current Baptist Hour broadcast on the subject "Christ is Lord." This program can be heard over KGNC of Amarillo at 7:30 on Sunday morning. Dr. Hunt's subject for September 12 will be "No Security Without Investment" and on September 19 "Determining Your Own Destiny."

The current series will run through September and October and other speakers include Dr. Arnold T. Ohrn, Executive Secretary of the Baptist World Alliance, Washington, D. C.; Mr. Maxey Jarman, Chairman, General Shoe Corporation, Nashville, Tennessee, and Dr. James L. Sullivan, Pastor, Belmont Heights Baptist Church, Nashville, Tennessee.

The States' Rights party campaign managers are trying to widen the split in the Democratic party, extend the bolt of 13 southern states to include several key northern states. First target probably will be Pennsylvania. If they are successful there, southern leaders are confidently saying the Dixiecrat candidate, Gov. Thurmond of South Carolina, will poll more electoral college votes than Thurmon.

John B. Hunter to Teach Bible at W. T.

John B. Hunter of Georgia was in Canyon last week with officials of the Student Department of the Baptist General Convention of Texas which finances the Bible Chair at West Texas State College in Canyon, and was approved by college administrative authorities as professor of Bible, succeeding Miss Eula V. Potter who recently resigned to accept a position with the public schools of Bay Town, Texas.

Mr. Hunter will move to Canyon this week with his wife and three boys, and will live at 1710 Third Avenue. He is a former student of New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary where he spent two years, and is a graduate of Mercer University with the A. B. degree, and holds the B. D. and Th. M. degrees from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth. He spent three years as a chaplain with the army air forces during the recent war.

The courses in Bible carry regular college credit, and all academic requirements are approved by the college Board of Regents. The Canyon Chair of Bible is one of a dozen now supported by Texas Baptists near State college campuses, the oldest being at the University of Texas where the chair has been maintained over twenty years.

The background was formed by a vine-covered trellis and bronze colored gladioli.

Era Jo Upshaw, soloist, sang "Because" and "I Love Thee," accompanied by Albert Russell, who also played the wedding marches.

Presidential candidate Dewey will not dodge the inflation issue. Campaign plans now call for the New York Governor and his running mate Earl Warren to hammer at the Administration for failing to cut Government costs and neglecting to use the inflation-control powers which it possessed.

GOP is gambling on a food price drop by election time. Some party leaders who engineered the quick adjournment of Congress think goods prices will be down enough by November to prove the Administration's price control program was unnecessary.

Big gain in operating income for June was reported by Class I railroads—$124,979,063 against $61,249,090 a year ago. But this still leaves the rate of return on property investment far below the 6% the roads have fixed as a goal.

Our Policy on PONTIAC Deliveries and Prices

Despite the fact that Pontiac has built over a half-million cars since the resumption of production after the war, demand still exceeds supply. In the face of this production record, those who place orders now will still experience some delay in delivery. If you are among the many people who feel that Pontiac represents an outstanding value—and wish to order a Pontiac for future delivery—you will be interested in the following policy on retail distribution which we, as Pontiac dealers, will observe:

WE WANT YOUR ORDER

And the sooner you place it, the sooner you will get delivery. So if you want a Pontiac, order it now.

WE WILL ESTIMATE DELIVERY DATE

Due to conditions beyond our control, we cannot give you an exact date of delivery. But based on anticipated future shipments from the factory, we will, when you place your order, give you an honest estimate of when you may expect your car. Such estimates will be reviewed any time on request.

ORDERS FILLED BY PRIORITY

A definite proportion of the cars we receive from the factory is set aside for preferential delivery to users whose work is in the public welfare and to others with certain occupational requirements. Otherwise, all orders will be filled on the basis of the time when they are received.

YOU PAY ONLY OUR ADVERTISED PRICE

Due to changing economic conditions, we cannot, when you place your order, tell you exactly how much the car will cost when delivered in the future. But, at the time of delivery you will be charged only our advertised price on your model—which will be shown in a published list of local prices.

YOU SPECIFY ACCESSORIES

While most of our customers order their cars equipped with accessories, we do not force accessories as a condition of sale. You specify what accessories you want when ordering your car, and these are the ones (and the only ones) it will carry when delivered. Some items may be lacking due to current shortages; but none will be added.

REGARDING TRADE-INS

Naturally, if you have a car to trade, we would like to have it in order to take care of our regular used car customers. Our appraisals are fair, based on current conditions. But if you do not have a car to turn in, we still want your order and will accept it for delivery based on the conditions outlined above.

Since this is our "home town", our business and its future is based on our good relations with the people of this community. We are most happy that so many people here—as all over the country—have made Pontiac their number one choice as a new car.

Nothing pleases us more than to turn over the keys of a new Pontiac to one of the many people whose orders we have, because we know they have chosen well—for Pontiac is always a thoroughly good car, and a thoroughly good value, this year, next year, any year.

Spy Scares in America Do Not Alarm Citizens

The American people, by and large, are wary of spy scares. For years, a great deal of fun has been poked at the notion that "Moscow gold" streamed into this country by devious routes to finance Soviet agents and their American aides. Then, during the war, we developed a warm admiration for the Russians' magnificent defense of their homeland, and most of us felt that in the postwar era the great communist power and the great capitalist power would live together on a basis of friendly frankness and mutual resolve to put the world back on its feet.

A good deal of water has gone over the dam since then. And the current Congressional investigation into spying and allied activities—even though many of the accusations may be exaggerated, and some of them may be completely unfounded—indicates that the communist underground in the United States has been far more extensive, and has reached into far more places, than anyone believed. As Life stated it, "Some of the details of the underground were obscured by conflicting testimony, but the general pattern was clear and damning."

The list of those who have been accused of either being communists, fellow travelers, or dupes, is a long one. It includes an assistant to President Roosevelt, an official of standing in the State Department, a man who held an important war position in the Commerce Department, and others whose work gave them a knowledge of highly confidential information. The principal witness—a woman who testified she had acted as a sort of coordinator of information on behalf of a Russian agent with whom she was in love—said she sometimes obtained so much information that it was necessary to photograph it on microfilm to lessen the physical bulk. The Russians in charge of espionage work—and this seems to have involved practically every employe and representative of the Soviet government—didn't miss a single bet if they could help it.

From the record as so far written, it does not appear that anything so crass as bribery with money was used to any great extent. If the evidence is to be believed, even in part, some of the informants were stirred by idealistic considerations—a feeling that Communism was the only road to justice and peace. It will be remembered that during the thirties Stalin officially dissolved the Comintern, whose objective was world revolution, and the Communist Party within this country abruptly changed its tune. It pledged itself to attain its objectives through strictly legal means, paid lip service to democratic principles and procedures, denied that it had any connection with the Kremlin, and went all out to appear homespun and respectable. Many people who fell for this have since disavowed their connection with the party and have become aggressively anti-red. One of these is at present a senior editor of Time, and he has furnished some of the most startling testimony produced at the hearings.

Other people who served the Communist cause may not have known what they were doing—they just talked too much and at the wrong time. Finally, there is a hard core of men and women whose loyalty, regardless of nationality, belongs to the Soviet Union, and who are willing to do practically anything to serve the cause.

Just how much really valuable secret information did the Soviet agents get? The probability is that they didn't get a great deal. Some of it, indeed, was available to anyone who wanted it. And some of it, while classified, was of no particular importance. At the same time, it is probable that out of all the mass of material which was correlated and sent to Russia, there was at least a modicum of information which really belonged in the secret category.

The general feeling seems to be that the government's crackdown on disloyal employes and the communist underground was long overdue—and that responsible officials were unbelievably lethargic in starting the work. As an example, one government employe held important jobs for four years in spite of constant objections by Naval Intelligence. It is significant that this man refused to answer when a committee investigator asked him formally if he was or ever had been a Communist. Many of those called did the same, thing, on the constitutional grounds that to answer right might incriminate them. It is a matter of record that communists and fellow travelers are always ready to take full advantage of our legal protections for the individual—protections which are totally non-existent in the Soviet Union.

The case of the Russian schoolteachers who don't want to get home for fear of being shot—one of them jumped from the third floor of the Russian consulate in New York in order to escape—has further complicated the matter. It looks as if the Russians distrust their own people, as well as the Americans.

At any rate, the job of ferreting out the communists in the government is really underway at last. Several hundred Federal employes have either been discharged or have resigned after being investigated by the Loyalty Review Board, which has been helped by the FBI. Many more are scheduled for investigation in the future. And it's a safe bet that we aren't through with disclosures which will make big headlines in the newspapers.

United States delegates to the United Nations Assembly at Paris plan to propose that no nation be required to pay more than 25 per cent of the U.N. annual budget. U. S. this year is paying 39 per cent of U.N. costs. The proposal, however, is expected to be voted down because the U.N., located in New York, needs dollars. Other countries can ill afford to dig up those dollars to defray costs.

Paul Hoffman, Marshall Plan Administrator, is relying on U.S. labor leaders to persuade British unions to consent to higher productivity in British factories. The hope is to convince British unions that they can benefit by improving man-hour output. British laborers don't seem to listen to the same arguments from British factory managers and Government officials.

Couple Marry In Waco Recently

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dowd were married in a beautiful home wedding in Waco on Wednesday evening, August 25. Mrs. Dowd is the former Evelyn Frazier. The young couple visited in Canyon last week. They are at home in College Station, where Mr. Dowd is a last term senior in A. & M. Upon completion of his work there, they plan to make Canyon their home.

Campbell-Small Wedding Is Impressive Home Ceremony

Carl A. Small, son of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Small, claimed Miss Maxine Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Campbell, as his bride in an afternoon ceremony Friday, September 3, in the living room at the home of her parents at 2800 Ong, Amarillo.

With Rev. H. C. Smith officiating, vows were exchanged at 3 o'clock at a kneeling bench placed before the fireplace. Lemon leaves interwoven with marconi daisies covered the mantel, and baskets of white gladioli and branch candelabra completed the altar decorations.

Piano medley of pre-nuptial music played by Miss Lillie Larsen, included "Love Came Calling Me One Morning," "The Bells of St. Mary's," "Traumeri," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "Lieberstraum," "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "Ave Maria."

Mrs. Fred L. Yelton, Jr., attended her sister as matron of honor. She was attired in an ice-blue slipper-satin dress fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and full skirt. The gown was ornamented with a jewelled pin, a gift from the bride. She carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds.

Best man was George Black.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was stately in a slipper-satin creation of bridal cream, detailed with high neckline, rolled collar, fitted bodice and flared skirt terminating in a cathedral train. Bodice of the gown was accented with tiny satin-covered buttons and her tiered, finger-tip-length veil of cream bridal illusion was fastened to a tiara studded with pear orange blossoms.

Mrs. Campbell, mother of the bride, was customed in a fuscia dinner dress styled with a flowing skirt. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Small, was dressed in a blue crepe dress. Both had gardenia corsages.

The adjoining rooms to the living room were the scene of the reception which followed the nuptials. The bride's table was covered with an imported cutwork linen cloth, and set with a three-tiered cake decorated with orange blossoms and confectionery love-birds. Also on the table were white tapers in crystal candelabra.

Mrs. Bedford Harrison presided at the punch service while Mrs. George A. Sinnigson of Fort Worth, sister of the bride, served the cake. Others in the house party were Miss Geraldine Small, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Helen Rodekhor, Norfolk, Neb.; and Mrs. Victor O. Shawgo.

When she left on the wedding trip to New Mexico and Colorado, the bride was dressed in a traveling ensemble of forest green suit, cocoa brown hat and gloves, bronze bag and shoes.

After September 10, Mr. and Mrs. Small will reside in Hereford.

The bride received her education at Amarillo College, where she belonged to Kappa Delta Chi sorority, at the University of Colorado and at West Texas State College where she was a member of Pi Omega Sorority.

At West Texas State, where he received his B. B. A. degree this summer, the bridegroom was affiliated with Tau Tau fraternity. He is a graduate of Canyon High School and his college training was interrupted by three years service in the army, serving in the European Theatre.

Military budget estimates for the next fiscal year already are surpassing the highest figures set for this year. Early indications are that the Military Establishment will ask for as much as $20,000,000,000. Military planners, of course, expect this figure to be trimmed somewhat by Congress.

Defense Secretary James Forrestal, while he was in Ottawa, talked up the idea of keeping Canadian munitions industries in large-scale production. The purpose is to supply Canadian arms to Western Europe, but to finance their production and sale with U. S. dollars.

Irish Prime Minister John Costello's visit to the United States is reviving rumors abroad that the U. S. is making progress in efforts to get Eire to pool her naval bases as part of a defense system for Western Europe.

Scandinavian countries are under diplomatic pressure from the U.S. to alter their traditional neutrality toward this country and Russia. U. S. military strategists are eager to get air facilities in Scandinavia, on Russia's flank.

Investment advisers predicts 1949 will be a year of major business readjustment, with downward pressure on prices by next June, unless a defense emergency requires lavish spending.

Pastor Begins Ninth Year in Canyon

Pastor Roy L. Johnson began his ninth year in Canyon last week, having come here to become pastor of First Baptist Church in September, 1940.

During his eight years 1,329 people have joined the local church, and net membership has increased from 645 to 1,050. Sunday School average attendance has increased from 216 in 1940 to 409 for the past twelve months, and enrollment is larger than the resident church membership. All other church organizations have shown growth during this period.

For the year which ended with August 1940 the financial income of the church was $6,556.29, but improved financial conditions during the present pastorate have made possible gifts of more than $200,000, with over $43,000 of that going for missionary, educational and benevolent work beyond the local community.

In 1940 the church building was mostly unfinished on the inside, and all the property of the church was mortgaged. But today the church owns three times as much land as in 1940 and all mortgages have been paid, and the building has been almost wholly finished and refurnished with new and modern equipment. These physical improvements represent an expenditure of more than $70,000, and the church has a reserve fund with which they expect to begin construction of a pastor's home soon.

During these eight years Dr. Johnson has served on various boards for his denomination, including Associational, District and State. He has served since 1941 as clerk-treasurer of Tierra Blanca Association, is a member of District Nine Executive Board, and since 1942 has been Recording and Statistical Secretary for the Baptist General Convention of Texas, in which position he edits all the statistical reports published in the Texas Baptist Annual each year. He writes articles for several papers, and has written and published one book since coming to Canyon, "The Baptists of Tierra Blanca."

Dr. Johnson believes in the future of Canyon and is leading his congregation to make plans for a bigger Canyon and help to make it a "better" Canyon at the same time.

When we think of the full, rich life which Jesus lived in an impoverished land, we realize how much He made of so little, while we make so little of so much.—Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, Christ Church (Methodist), New York.

News In Canyon 25 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of the Randall County News of September 6, 1923)

More than 1,000 teachers from 25 counties attended the consolidated teachers institute Monday through Friday afternoon.

The Canyon public schools will open Monday. Truck transportation will be used for the first time in the history of the district.

Miss Olga Landrum and Frank R. Phillips were married. The bride is home economics teacher in the public schools while Mr. Phillips is head of the Agricultural Department of the College.

Fifteen high school football candidates met with Coach Jim Webbs Monday.

George M. Grimm and Miss Anna Friemel were married.

U.S. drug manufacturers, picking up the pieces of Germany's drug empire (I. G. Farbenindustrie), expect export sales to reach $200 million this year. Besides standard merchandising methods, they are using show boats, sound trucks, "medicine man" shows and film cartoons in South America and Asia to sell brand name cathartics, toothpaste and remedies for footache, headache and stomach ache.

Recession danger signals are already flashing. August fur sales are down 25%-40% from a year ago; supplies of men's suits are backing up; dealers are slashing prices of expensive shirts; farm property sales are slumping; expensive houses are marked down; industrial buyers are holding back for fear of inventory losses due to price cuts; President John L. McCaffrey of International Harvester predicts: "U.S. is nearing a broad buyers' strike."

Coal merchants are warning builders, architects and municipalities of possible hardships if chimneys in new houses are not built big enough for the use of coal. In case of gas or oil shortage, owners of such houses would be put to considerable expense to build new flues.

Today is costs 30% more to settle bodily injury claims, 100% more to settle property damages than in 1941, insurance companies say. Reason: Higher cost of medical care, fancy grills, fenders without running board.

Boom in automobile accessories will continue for several years, makers predict, because drivers think new cars will be hard to get and consequently are spending heavily to keep older cars in shape.

Public enthusiasm for television is so strong the industry expects to turn out 1.6 million receivers (retail value: $400 million) in 1949.

Mack Stallings, Jr. Ordained to Preach

Mack Stallings, Jr., was set apart to the work of the gospel ministry in a special service at the First Baptist Church in Canyon Sunday afternoon, Sept. 5th, and preached at the church at the 8:00 o'clock evening hour. Moderator at the special service was pastor Roy L. Johnson, and the examination was led by Rev. C. G. Sewell of Tulia, while Dr. A. D. Foreman, Jr., of Amarillo preached the sermon and delivered the charge to the candidate. The ordaining prayer was led by Rev. Sewell, after which ceremonial hands were laid on the head of the young preacher as he kneeled.

Young Mr. Stallings is a former student of West Texas State and during the past summer was a student at Wayland College in Plainview. His wife, the former Joyce Miller, holds both the Bachelor's and Master's degrees from W. T., and they will live at Texline, Texas where Mr. Stallings will be pastor of the Baptist church there.
